Learn about 10 innovative, sustainable, high-performance “green” buildings that push the envelope in our built environment. Projects range from residential to multi-family to mixed-use developments in the PNW.

Each of our juried presenters will have 10 minutes to showcase 10 slides of their project, explaining what they learned, what they would do differently, and other sustainable contributions their project has made to our local community.

The Slam audience typically attracts architects, builders, homeowners, energy efficiency experts, real estate professionals, interior designers, and fabulous, eco-conscious people like you.
